RULE 21 ATTORNEYS

21.1 RESOLUTION OF CONFLICTING TRIAL SETTINGS

21.1.1 When an attorney has more than one case set for trial at the same time in different divisions, the trial of the lowest numbered case shall have precedence. A case which is delayed due to this rule shall be tried at the earliest possible time.

21.1.2 If a trial setting in a division is delayed because an attorney is "engaged" before an appellate court or in a trial in a court other than the Circuit Court of Clay County, Missouri, said case shall be reset for trial at the earliest possible time after such attorney becomes available.

21.1.3 By the term "engaged" in these rules is meant the actual and necessary participation of any attorney in the trial or hearing of a case. No attorney, however, shall be considered as so engaged unless he or she has complied with Local Rule 34.1.2 and has given written notification to the Judge of the Clay County division where the case is set, designating the other court and the approximate time the attorney will be necessarily so engaged.

This rule shall not apply in criminal cases where there are several defendants represented by different counsel.

21.3.3 A motion to separate witnesses must be made before any evidence is heard, and before any opening statement is made in a trial.

21.4 WITHDRAWAL OF ATTORNEYS

21.4.1 Withdrawal of an attorney of record in civil cases should be accompanied by the entry of appearance of another attorney of record. Absent such entry of appearance, such withdrawal may be filed only by leave of court, in order to assure compliance with Supreme Court Rules.

21.4.2 Where there is no entry of appearance by another attorney, application for withdrawal should be filed showing the full address of the client; and either the written consent of the client should be shown or the application should be served on the client along with notice calling up the application for hearing (with a statement to the client that he or she need not appear unless he or she wishes).

Such request, designate the specific person or entity to whom the authorization will be submitted. Such request may, without leave of Court, be served upon the petitioner or movant, as the case may be, after commencement of the action and upon any other party with or after service of the summons and the initial pleading upon that party. Unless the request is timely objected to, the party upon whom the request has been served shall execute the same before a notary public, and serve the executed authorization to the requesting party: (a.) Within ten (10) days after service of the request if the authorization sought to be executed is a Court-approved form; or (b.) Within thirty (30) days after service of the request if the authorization is not a Court-approved form. Upon motion timely filed, the Court may allow a shorter or longer time.

The party upon whom the request is served may object to execution of the authorization, however, any such objection shall be filed with the Court and served upon the party requesting same within the time permitted for execution of same, stating the specific reasons for objection. Failure to timely object to the request shall be deemed a waiver of any objection. A party's execution of an authorization pursuant to this rule shall not be a basis for non-compliance or objection to other methods of discovery permitted by Missouri Supreme Court Rules.

The party submitting the request may move for an Order to compel compliance where the properly executed authorizations are not received when due provided, however, no objection has been filed and served and, provided further, the requesting party shall have first served upon the party to whom the request was made written notice of the failure to comply and five (5) days shall have lapsed thereafter without compliance. Upon the Court's receipt of the motion to compel compliance, where no objection has been timely filed, the Court shall summarily, without further notice and a hearing, enter an Order compelling compliance within ten (10) days from the date of such Order.

If a party fails to serve the properly executed authorizations within ten (10) days from the Court's Order summarily ordering compliance, or timely files objections thereto that are thereafter overruled and the requested authorizations are not timely executed and served thereafter, the Court may, upon motion and reasonable notice to the parties, make such Orders in regard to the failure as are just, including, without limitation, the sanctions described in Rule 61.1 (d) MRCP.

Objections to authorizations may be presented to the Court for ruling by either party by motion and notice of hearing at any time after objections are served. If, after notice and hearing, objections to the authorizations which are pre-approved by the Court are overruled, the Court may assess against such objecting party, attorney or attorney's law firm, or all of them, the attorney's fees reasonably incurred in having such objection overruled.

Upon the request of the authorizing party and upon payment by the authorizing party of one-half of the costs incurred by the requesting party, plus a reasonable copying fee not to exceed twenty-five (25) cents per page, copies of all documents obtained by the requesting party shall be provided to the authorizing party within ten (10) days from the receipt of the authorizing party's said payment.

Any proposed Order shall not be electronically filed but shall be served on all parties.

(adopted 03/11/16)

Rule 44 MRCP, "Time," shall apply to the foregoing rule.

In the event discovery is not received within the period specified in the "golden rule" letter, then the propounding attorney may file a motion to compel with the court which will be summarily ruled on by the court without hearing, requiring all discovery to be provided within ten (10) days of the court order.

The Administrative Family Court Judge may waive this requirement or the judge assigned to the case for good cause shown. Good cause does not include employment or work related conflicts.

68.7.4 The class attendance shall also be required in connection with motions to modify involving visitation or custody issues that are in dispute and motions for family access. Class attendance may be required as part of any Full Order of Protection in an adult abuse or child protection action.

68.8 CUSTODY/VISITATION MEDIATION

 68.8.1 The Family Court encourages the amicable resolution of custody and visitation issues through mediation as a method of focusing the attention of the parties on the best interest of the child. In every dissolution of marriage, legal separation or paternity action in which there are contested issues of custody and/or visitation, the parties (except for the State of Missouri) shall complete mediation, as provided in Supreme Court Rule 88.02-88.08 and this rule, prior to the filing of a motion for trial setting. Any motion for trial setting shall include an averment that mediation has been completed, or that there are no contested issues regarding custody or visitation of minor children, or that the case has been excluded or exempted from mandatory mediation as provided by this rule.

68.8.2 Parties may arrange for mediation privately, may apply to the court for an order of mediation, or may request services through the Family Court mediation program by contacting the Director of Office of Dispute Resolution Services to determine eligibility. To insure that mediation is available to all parties, regardless of financial standing; the Family Court Mediation Program shall provide services based on the income of the parties in accordance with guidelines established by the Office of Dispute Resolution Services and approved by the court en banc. Parties seeking to participate in the Family Court Mediation Program shall submit income information to the administrator of the Office of Dispute Resolution Services on the form designated for that purpose. Intake procedures performed by the Office of Dispute Resolution Services to screen parties for mediation and to arrange for the delivery of services, with the exception of reasonable suspicion of child abuse or neglect, shall be considered part of the mediation proceedings and treated as confidential under Supreme Court rule 88.08.

68.8.3 The Family Court Office of Dispute Resolution Services shall maintain a copy of The Missouri Bar Dispute Resolution Neutrals List and a list of mediators who are currently contracting to provide services through Family Court sponsored mediation programs who meet the qualifications under Supreme Court Rule 88.05. Movant may name a mediator in the request. Each party may petition the Court to disqualify one mediator without stating cause within fifteen (15) days of the designation of the mediator. Thereafter disqualification of a mediator shall be for cause shown. If the parties are unable to agree on a mediator, the court will appoint a mediator. The mediator shall advise the Court of any fact bearing upon a conflict of interest or bias, or any other facts that would be reason for his or her disqualification. If the Court disqualifies a mediator, an order shall be entered naming a qualified replacement. Nothing shall limit a mediator's ability to refuse assignment of any mediation under this rule.

68.8.5 Some cases may be inappropriate for mediation, which may include those with a history of child abuse or neglect or domestic violence. The Court appointed mediator, and the Office of Dispute Resolution Services in the case of matters participating in the court sponsored mediation program, shall screen the parties prior to conducting mediation sessions. If the case is deemed inappropriate for mediation, the mediator or program director shall immediately file the Notice of Mediation Compliance form with the Court.

68.8.6 Any party may request the court to waive the mediation requirement for good cause shown. "Good cause" may be established by specific averments showing that the case is not suitable for mediation, or at the request of any party, the court may refer the case for screening to determine the appropriateness of mediation. Screening procedures performed by the Office of Dispute Resolution Services shall be confidential pursuant to Supreme Court rule 88.08. The pre-screening report shall indicate only whether mediation is or is not appropriate

68.8.7 A mediator assigned to provide services in a case by the court or a court-sponsored program shall give the parties and their counsel of record advance notice in writing of the time and place of the initial mediation session. Any mediation beyond the initial two hours shall proceed by mutual agreement of the parties. Counsel for any party may attend the mediation sessions, but shall first notify the mediator and all counsel of record of his or her intent to attend. If counsel for any party desires to attend after receipt of such notice, but is unavailable on the scheduled date, the mediation shall be rescheduled at a time convenient to all parties and counsel. Counsel and clients may communicate privately at any time during the mediation process. The guardian ad litem for a minor child, if one has been appointed, shall be considered a party to the proceeding and may participate as a party in the mediation process. The mediator shall provide the Court and counsel of record with a copy of the Notice of Mediation Compliance signed by the mediator at the termination of mediation.

68.8.8 The confidentiality provisions of Rule 88.08 shall apply to mediations undertaken to comply with this rule. Any mediator who is required by statute or program guidelines to report reasonable suspicion of child abuse or neglect shall so advise the parties and counsel in writing upon appointment. Except for the completion of the Notice of Compliance, the mediator shall make no other disclosures of a confidential nature during or at the conclusion of mediation without the consent of all participants. The identity of the party who terminates mediation shall not be disclosed.
